For the very first time in the World. Blockchain and Artificial Intelligence based Wisdom of Crowd for World of Financial Market Predictions.

Problem:

The problem we identified is that over a billion investors around the world have to depend on just a handful of financial institutions to make investment decisions. In this day and age of Artificial Intelligence and Blockchain technology, they have no way of communicating and receiving guidance from each other. Let it be a stock, an index, a commodity or a currency, the only way they can form an opinion about a financial instrument is to follow the opinion of a few financial institutions.

One billion people following a few institutions who have historically not only made mistakes but, in some cases, have caused the world financial crisis is a cause of concern. Investors from 194 countries around the world do not have a single Artificial Intelligence based platform where "Wisdom of The Crowd" coupled with Blockchain is guiding them in making wise and sound financial decisions. For example, an investor in Europe goes to sleep and wakes up to surprises in his financial asset class, may it be a stock, a commodity or a Crypto investment. He has no way of looking at a predictive analysis-based opinion of the investors through "Wisdom Of The Crowd" prediction markets, coupled with a solution based on Artificial Intelligence, around the world in advance. The problem has been identified and here we are working on a solution.

Solution:

The solution will be embedded in a Blockchain based "Prediction Markets" platform through "Wisdom of The Crowd" and Artificial Intelligence analysis capabilities. Now an investor in Europe, or Asia or China or The Americas, can know in advance what the majority of the 1 billion investors are thinking about an asset class, may it be a stock, a commodity or a currency. People with experience and novices alike will be part of a pool where they can create a question about a particular asset per say, immediately have access to billions of opinions from around the world, the artificial intelligence capabilities will sort out the most likely scenarios based on multiple attributes collected from a through Big Data funnel. It will then distribute this data based on various sentiments and create an authentic series of answers which will keep on getting refined until it comes up with the most probable scenario.

And this is where NAi European Technologies, comes in. We are developing a platform combined with all of the above-mentioned technologies to serve the needs of the investors around the world.

Benefit:

Now the investors can confidently invest, may it be in stocks, commodities, Forex or metals without getting influenced by the investment banks that try to control the asset direction by their sometimes biased reports and analysis. The financial crisis of 2008 has been the biggest learning experience for investors of what manipulation by investment banks does to common investors. While artificial intelligence is landing satellites on planets, driving cars without humans, defending national borders of countries, why should it not serve the needs of the investors around the world with unbiased prediction markets results?

Never before Artificial Intelligence been applied with Blockchain on any platform for financial forecasting. NAI plans to be the leader in this field. Not only we will allow the 1 billion investors around the world to predict asset direction, we plan to use the power of Ai to predict the direction of the markets all the way down to individual asset such as a stock, commodity, currency, bond or Crypto Currencies, etc. The most accurate form of Ai based prediction will be now available to the entire globe through this platform. The world of investments is about to change forever. Get ready.
